

Abstract:

Title of the thesis: Quantitative characteristics of gaming performance in basketball Czech National team of women at the Olympic Games in 2012 and its comparison with the performance of the 2010 World Cup.

The goal of the paper: The goal of this paper is a characteristics of a team game performance of our national women's team at the Olympic Games in 2012 and compared with the characteristics of the same team at the World Cup 2010. Data collection method used will be observed, the specification of analysis gaming performance indicators and quantitative evidence type.

Methodology: The Quantitative analysis of a team performance videorecording (KVANTÝM).

Results: The results are intended to show the value of individual indicators in comparison with the indicators of opponents and their own pointers to the previous top event.

Keywords: Basketball, team game performance, quantitative video analysis, comparison, differences, results, success.